

Christine Maric

Current position:

- Assistant Professor of Medicine, Department of Medicine Georgetown University Medical Center
- Director, Diabetes Research, Center for the Study of Sex Differences : in Health, Aging and Disease

SMWF Activities:

- Member at large, Society for Medical Women Faculty, Georgetown University Oct 2003-present
- Website maintenance Jan 2004-present

GU service:

- Faculty Development Advisory Committee, Georgetown University, June 2003-present
- Faculty Development Advisory Committee (Mentorship sub-committee), Georgetown University, June 2003-present
- Institutional review board, Georgetown University, Oct 2003-July 2004
- Department of Medicine space committee

Teaching:

- Renal Physiology, SMSP, Department of Physiology and Biophysics, Georgetown University

Clinical/Research Interests:

- Sex differences in diabetic nephropathy
- Role of oxidative stress in diabetic nephropathy
- Sex differences in the aging kidney
- Hormonal regulation of angiotensin receptors in progressive renal disease
- Osmotic regulation of angiotensin receptors
- Role of oxidative stress in preeclampsia

Public service:

- Chair, Women In Nephrology Program Committee 2001-present
- Chair, Society for Experimental Biology Graduate Student Symposium 2002-2003
- Co-chair, Symposium on obesity and renal disease, National Kidney Foundation Clinical Nephrology Meeting April, 2002
- Board Member, Association for Women in Science, Bethesda Chapter 2002-present
- Member, AJP (Renal Section) Awards Committee 2003-2004
- Co-chair, Symposium on PKC in diabetic renal disease, American Society of Nephrology Annual Scientific Meeting November, 2003
- President, Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine (DC Section) 2—3-present
- Treasurer, Women in Nephrology 2003-present

Other: